LOUISBURG COLLEGE
LOUISBURG, N.C. 27549

AN ACCREDITED
UNITED METHODIST
COEDUCATIONAL

BULLETIN 1975-77

The need for education today — and in this instance, for a college education — is accentuated by the nature of the times in which we live. Defining one's education as total involvement with a responsive environment, the primary goal of the college experience must be to assist the individual in defining individuality and social responsibility. Career-orientation is vital, but so also is the clarification of values essential to our life in common.

Louisburg College does not profess to be all things to all students. Its concern is with helping each student, by means of as much personal attention as possible, to recognize a life role and to obtain a firm foundation for it. A student who wants to work in an atmosphere of friendliness and Christian ideals on a strong academic program directed toward transfer to a senior college, or one who seeks emphasis on a skills approach for more immediate employment, will find Louisburg College an excellent learning environment for his purpose. Our faculty members are well-trained, experienced, and vitally interested both in the student and the subject they teach.

In the academic, skills, and service programs, in student community life, in the cultural arts, and in intercollegiate and intramural athletics, Louisburg College strives for excellence; and the contribution of each student toward this excellence is readily sought.

Prospective students and their parents are invited to visit the campus and become better acquainted with the faculty and students and, through them, with the opportunities available for individual growth.

LOCATION

Louisburg College is located at Louisburg, the county seat of Franklin County, in eastern North Carolina. The College is situated on the highest points of land in the town, and its buildings command a fine view of the surrounding country and the valley of the Tar River. The town of Louisburg, with a population of about three thousand, contains few of the distractions of the city; but convenient bus transportation is available to nearby cities. It is about thirty miles northeast of Raleigh, the state capital, forty miles east of Durham, and about a hundred and fifty miles from the North Carolina beaches on the Atlantic.

Louisburg is the coeducational junior college of the North Carolina Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church. As a junior college it has served primarily three types of students: those who seek a solid academic foundation in order to transfer to a four-year college; those who seek to bridge the gap between high school and a large institution by attending a junior college capable of giving them personal attention; and those who plan terminal work at the freshman or sophomore level, as in business, social work, or recreation leadership.

Ideally located in the heart of the progressive and growing area between the Piedmont and Coastal Plains, Louisburg enjoys a temperate climate. Annual mean temperature is 43 degrees in winter and 77 degrees in summer.

THE STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

Louisburg College, as a two-year, co-educational, church-related institution of higher learning, exists in order to:

1. Be an expression of the Church's efforts to serve cultural, social, educational, and spiritual needs of the present age.
2. Serve the cause of liberal education by maintaining high standards of scholarship.
3. Serve students by helping each of them to develop his whole life, achieve his highest potential, prepare himself for further study, and become receptive to the vision of life as a service to God and his fellow man.
4. Serve the community by being a center of spiritual and cultural influence.
5. Serve persons employed by the college by helping them to achieve self-fulfillment in the exercise of their professions, careers and occupations.

HISTORY

Evolving from three earlier institutions — Franklin Academy, Louisburg Female Academy, and Louisburg Female College — Louisburg College is the oldest chartered denominational junior college in the nation.

In 1779 the legislature of the infant state of North Carolina organized a new county to be named for the foreign minister to France, Benjamin Franklin, who had recently negotiated a mutual defense alliance that would make the independence of the new states possible. On an ancient Indian trading ground on the banks of the Tar River, the legislature authorized the settlement of the county seat. In honor of Louis XVI, the reigning French monarch, the grateful legislature named the county seat Louisburg, and in the town charter a public commons was set aside on the highest point of ground. This town commons is today the campus of Louisburg College, an institution born when this nation was young, and which now, with this nation, is growing to maturity.

In 1786, three years after the Revolution, enlightened citizens of Louisburg, then a tiny village nestled on the fords of the Tar, petitioned the legislature for an academy. On January 6, 1787, Franklin Academy was chartered, and a contract was signed for the construction of an academy building. At the present time there is no further evidence of the operation of the first academy, but in 1802 the academy was rechartered by a new board of trustees, which included Major Jeremiah Perry, a soldier of the Revolution; Major Green Hill, a founder of Methodism in North Carolina; John Haywood, a judge of superior court and former state attorney general; and Dr. Alexander Falconer, a scientist and a graduate of St. Andrews College, Scotland.

Franklin Academy opened on January 1, 1805, in a two-story frame building which had been constructed the previous year and which still stands on the east campus of Louisburg College. Offering a classical curriculum, the academy was under the able direction of a recent graduate of Yale, Matthew Dickinson, who was a maternal uncle of Cyrus W. Field, the layer of the first trans-Atlantic cable. On July 2, 1805, the first examinations were held at the academy in English grammar, geography, Latin, and French. The following day, before "...a most numerous assemblage of ladies and gentlemen..." the students delivered orations and dialogues, and enacted a play.

Dickinson offered two levels of instruction. The first consisted of Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography, Belles Lettres, and Rhetoric; the second embraced "...Ethics and Metaphysics, the Latin, Greek, Hebrew, French, and Italian languages, and the higher branches of Metaphysics and Philosophy viz: Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Conic Sections,...Surveying, Navigation, Natural Philosophy, and Astronomy..." The academy prospered and soon had an enrollment of seventy students annually. A Connecticut visitor described the academy in 1808 as a "...pleasant building on the hill..." and noted Dickinson's observation that "...literature is much respected in these parts and literary men revered..." In 1813 a female department was added to Franklin Academy, beginning the second stage of the evolution of Louisburg College. Two notable headmasters of Louisburg Male Academy were John B. Bobbitt of the University of North Carolina, who served two terms — 1816-1820 and 1832-1843 — and Matthew S. Davis of the University of North Carolina, who served 1856-1881.

"In the female department young ladies were to be instructed," so the opening announcement read, in "Reading, Writing, English Grammar, Arithmetic, Geography, Astronomy, Painting, and Music, also useful and Ornamental Needle Work of almost every description." A legislative document of 1814 incorporated the Trustees of the Louisburg Female Academy and provided for the deeding to the academy of any of the unappropriated town lands. The original building for this school, erected in 1814, was described by the commissioners, in inviting bids for construction, as 30 by 20 feet, 2 stories — 11 and 9 feet pitch — two rooms above, 18 by 20 and 12 by 20 feet — three 6-paneled doors — four 18 and four 8 light windows below, and six 16 and four 8 light windows above — to be built of good hard timber — with two chimneys of brick or hewn stone, and underpinned with the same to be ceiled within and painted without."

The new building completed, Miss Harriet Partridge, "a lady from Massachusetts, eminently qualified," became the "preceptress." The early records reveal that by 1817 there was an average enrollment of seventy-five and that the preceptress received an annual salary of five hundred dollars. Miss Partridge was assisted by a Mr. John Lataste, who was distinguished, according to the official advertisement, by his "universally acknowledged qualifications in teaching music upon the Forte Piano, as well as his graceful and elegant manner of teaching dancing." By 1838 Latin and French had been added to the curriculum and instruction in the guitar and other instruments had been instituted.

Responding, in 1855, to the need for higher education of women, the Louisburg Female College Company was organized as a joint-stock enterprise to begin the work of converting the academy into a college. By a legislative act, the company acquired interests in the academy ground, moved the academy buildings to another part of the property, and constructed a four-story Greek-Revival structure at the cost of $16,000. Instruction was begun in the fall of 1857 under the presidency of Mr. James P. Nelson of Maryland. During the spring of 1865 the community was occupied by a Union cavalry force, which camped in the Oak Groves of the College campus. The College building was used as a hospital and the headquarters of General Judson Kilpatrick; the academy building was utilized as a granary.

The post-war reconstruction years were lean years for the College. After opening and closing twice, the College reopened in 1889 with an enrollment of about a hundred, under Mr. S. D. Bagley, who was assisted by eight teachers. A preparatory department was conducted in the old academy building. Mr. Matthew S. Davis, who had previously been principal of the male academy, became president in 1896 and held the office until his death in 1906, when he was succeeded by his daughter, Mrs. Ivey Allen.

During these latter years the College had been run under the care of the Methodist Church, although the church had given nothing to its support and in theory it had continued to belong to the stock company. By virtue of money he had lent to the institution, Mr. Washington Duke, the Durham philanthropist, had in 1891 become real owner. In 1907, upon Mr. Duke's death, his son, Mr. Benjamin N. Duke, presented the property to the North Carolina Conference of the Southern Methodist Church. In 1911 the three-story Davis Building was erected as a memorial to Matthew S. Davis. In 1915, under the presidency of Mrs. Allen, the college was reorganized with junior-college rating.

Under the presidency of A. W. Mohn, the years 1922 to 1929 were a period of building expansion. During this period the West Wing, the Pattie Julia Wright Dormitory, and the Franklin County Building were erected.

The College entered another period of crisis in 1928 when disastrous fires destroyed the old female academy building and gutted the main floors of Main Building and the West Wing. Closely following the fire came the Depression of 1929, and the College was burdened with heavy debt and a shrinking enrollment. In 1931, under the presidency of Dr. A. D. Wilcox, the College became coeducational. By the end of World War II the College debts had been paid, particularly during the administration of Dr. D. E. Earnhardt, 1936-1939, and Dr. Walter Patten, 1939-1947. Under the presidency of Samuel M. Holton, 1947-1955, the gymnasium was built and the College received accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

The most rapid development in the history of the College occurred under the leadership of Dr. Cecil W. Robbins, who served as president from July 1, 1955, until December 31, 1974. The student body, budget, faculty and physical plant were substantially increased. The central heating plant was completed in 1956. The Benjamin N. Duke College Union was opened in 1959; in 1961 the College acquired the Mills School property on the east side of Main Street, thereby restoring the original campus of the Franklin Academy as designated in 1787. Patten Hall, a men's dormitory, was opened in 1962. The Auditorium-Classroom Building (1961) was remodeled from the old Mills School, and an adjacent modern brick structure has been remodeled as a Fine Arts Center. A 104-bed dormitory for women, Merritt Hall, was opened in the fall of 1963, and in the fall of 1965, the Cecil W. Robbins Library building was occupied. In 1968 Sarah Graham Kenan Hall, a 104-bed dormitory for women containing a 24-bed infirmary, was opened. Also in 1968 a new maintenance building was erected.

In the fall of 1971, Hillman Hall, a 96-bed men's dormitory, fully air-conditioned and containing a large recreation room, was completed. The B. Everett Jordan Student Center and the Cockrell Music Wing of the Fine Arts Building were both completed during the early fall of 1974.

On January 1, 1975, Dr. J. Allen Norris, Jr. succeeded Dr. Robbins as President of Louisburg College. Dr. Norris, a native of Raleigh, North Carolina, is a highly qualified leader and educator. He has worked within the structure of higher education for more than 15 years, and under his guidance, Louisburg continues to be a leader among private junior colleges.

BUILDINGS

The Administration Building (Old Main), a four-story brick building, was opened in 1857. In it is located the office of the President and the Dean. The social hall, the post office, and some academic offices are also located in the Main Building. Main, with its Greek Revival facade, has typified the historic Louisburg College to generations of alumni.

Davis Memorial Building was erected in 1913 as a memorial to Matthew S. Davis, president of the College from 1896 to 1906. Davis Building contains business and administrative offices, some faculty offices, and the "College Chapel." The third floor contains a dormitory for second-year students.

The West Wing of the Administration Building was erected in 1924 and contains a Trustee Conference room, Testing and Guidance rooms, and offices.

The Pattie Julia Wright Memorial Dormitory was the gift of Mr. R. H. Wright of Durham, North Carolina, in memory of his sister, Pattie Julia Wright, who was a member of the class of 1868. This dormitory accommodates one hundred and six women.

The Franklin County Building was constructed in 1927 with funds donated by the people of Franklin County in appreciation of the more than one hundred and fifty years of service rendered to the community by the College. It contains science laboratories and lecture rooms, and forty-four dormitory rooms on the upper floors.

The B. Everett Jordan Student Center, completed in 1974, contains a multi-purpose room, bookstore, soda shop, post office, a recreation room, and offices for the Student Government Association, COLUMNS, and THE OAK. It also contains the offices for the Dean of Students and Director of Housing. Named for the late U. S. Senator B. Everett Jordan, this structure joins the Benjamin N. Duke College Union and is the gathering place for hundreds of students daily.

The Benjamin N. Duke College Union Building is a memorial to Mr. B. N. Duke, who gave Louisburg College to the North Carolina Conference in 1907. Erected in 1958, the building houses all the cafeteria facilities including a small dining room. It joins the B. Everett Jordan Student Center, which was opened in 1974.

The Auditorium-Classroom Building, located on the east side of Main Street, contains an auditorium with a seating capacity of 750, eighteen classrooms, faculty and student lounges, faculty offices, and the experimental theatre.

Patten Hall is a 96-bed men's dormitory, completely modern in style and furnishings and equipped with lounges on each floor. It was occupied by students in the fall of 1962 and later named for Dr. Walter Patten, President of the College from 1939 to 1947.

Merritt Hall, modern in furnishings and design, was opened in 1963 and houses one hundred and four women. It is named for Ruth W. Merritt, Professor Emeritus of English. Miss Merritt was a valuable member of the teaching faculty from 1941 to 1971.

Sarah Graham Kenan Hall, a new dormitory housing 104 women and containing the 24-bed Genevieve Peltz Perry Infirmary, was opened in 1968. It is named in the memory of Sarah Graham Kenan, whose foundation contributed generously to the College over a four-year period toward faculty salaries, scholarships, library resources, and to the infirmary.

James Elgan Hillman Hall, completed in the fall of 1971, houses 96 men. It is the first major building to be erected on the 22-acre Person property adjacent to the West Campus.

The Fine Arts Center, first used during the 1963-1964 session, was extensively remodeled to house the Art Department, and the Music Department.

The Holton Gymnasium, opened in 1951, is a modern building containing a basketball court, classrooms, a recreation area and other physical education facilities. It is named for Samuel M. Holton, President of Louisburg College from 1947-1955.

The Cecil W. Robbins Library, a thoroughly modern air-conditioned structure combining traditional and contemporary architecture, was formally opened in 1965 as part of the Founder's Day Celebration. During the 1967 Commencement Exercises, the new library was named in honor of Dr. Cecil W. Robbins, President of Louisburg College from 1955-1975.

FACILITIES

Cecil W. Robbins Library Facilities — The structure of the library, seating 250 students, with a housing capacity of 50,000 volumes, is a tangible symbol of the College's aim to be an even greater asset to higher education in eastern North Carolina. The building includes a main reading room with conference, staff and processing rooms on the first floor along with the reserve book area and librarian's office near the main circulation desk.

On the mezzanine is the faculty study area, listening room and reading area with open stacks and lounges.

The basement contains work and storage areas, a language laboratory, archive room, audio-visual center and auditorium, lounges, and offices.

The library maintains a well trained library staff of three professional librarians and two secretaries.

Additions to the library collection continue in order to maintain the usefulness and value that the student body and progressive faculty are demanding. All of the collection is on open shelves, accessible to all students, so that they can see, handle, and scan related materials when searching for a required selection.

Audio-Visual Center — The center now contains a materials collection, a one hundred seat multi-purpose auditorium, a production area, sixteen wet carrels, additional study seating for twenty, four viewing areas with wall screens, an area for the English Consultant, a lobby and the director's office. Thus, with a junior college book collection of 35,000 volumes, a media collection of 1600 items, over 200 pieces of audio-visual equipment, an audio-visual production center, and a multi-purpose auditorium, the students have in the Audio-Visual Center, an ideal learning environment.

Reserve audio-visual materials are available to the students and faculty in the audio-visual center. The development of "learning environments" and media usage in various departments on campus has been concurrent with the development of the media center. Most of the audio-visual equipment and materials are located outside the center, in the departments where they are most used.

Laboratories for the sciences are well-equipped and are being constantly improved. The chemistry laboratories are located on the first floor of Franklin Building. One laboratory is completely equipped for individual work in general and organic chemistry, and a second for individual work in analytical chemistry, both qualitative and quantitative. These laboratories are supplied with both basic and specialized chemical apparatus from a large and well-stocked supply room on the same floor and a complete stock of both inorganic and organic chemicals. Also located on this floor is a modern instrumental laboratory containing the latest equipment for chemical instrumentation, including analytical balances, Mettler and Sartorius balances, pH meters, a potentiometer, spectrophotometers, colorimeters, a conductivity bridge, and nuclear chemistry apparatus. All laboratories have been remodeled with particular attention to lighting, to create an attractive environment for laboratory work. Adjacent to the laboratories are two classrooms equipped for lecture demonstrations.

Also located on the first floor of Franklin Building is the laboratory for physics.

Physical facilities for the Biology Department are located in the basement of Franklin Building. Three medium-sized laboratories (20 students each), a large lecture hall, storage and display areas, and a teaching herbarium are equipped and stocked to provide instruction for 250 students. Recent equipment added to the department include a large rolling door autoclave, additional stereomicroscopes, approximately 75 film loops, 4 large aquaria (1 for saltwater life), a 6 ft. DNA model, and a new greenhouse.

A modern shorthand laboratory for business students, incorporating the EFL Learning Systems, is located in the Auditorium-Classroom Building.

Language tapes to accompany or supplement the various foreign language courses are available for voluntary use by students in the Audio-Visual Center in the library. Records and other audio-visual aids are used as desired in the actual class meetings.

The Genevieve Peltz Perry Infirmary is located on the ground floor of Kenan Hall. Modern in every respect, it will accommodate 24 patients.

Construction of an additional wing to the Fine Arts Building was completed in 1974. This wing, the Cockrell Music Wing, houses four practice rooms, a studio and office, and a small auditorium for student recitals.

PLANS

Future projections include the restoration of the academy building as a museum, the construction of a science building, additional recreational facilities, and a chapel. Louisburg College expects to remain small, but it is working continuously to improve its physical facilities in keeping with its policy of providing quality education in a wholesome Christian atmosphere.

NONDISCRIMINATION

Louisburg College makes no distinction in the admission of students or in any other of its activities on the basis of race, color, sex, creed, or national origin. No person is excluded from participation in, denied the benefits of, or subjected to discrimination under any educational program or activity of the College.

STUDENT LIFE

CAMPUS LIFE

Inasmuch as Louisburg College exists primarily to serve the church through the education of individuals, Louisburg College strives for the total development and growth of each student. The philosophy and methods used grow out of the ideal "to serve as Christ served." The goal is to provide a Campus Life program that works for the total person and goes beyond traditional academics — to deal with the religious, social, and physical as well. The aim, therefore, is to help each individual to become a mature, integrated person, to discover his own self-identity and to discover his own unique gifts in order to become a contributing member of his social group and the Christian community.

The Student Affairs Office is staffed for the purpose of integrating and coordinating the non-academic college services to the individual. The concern of the office is to give continuity to the college's relationship with the individual from the initial contact with the prospective student, continuing with him in college and after graduation when he joins the Alumni Association.

RELIGIOUS INFLUENCE

Louisburg College is a United Methodist college which strives for the Christian development of its students as one of the foremost objectives of its program. Hence the administration does all in its power to create a congenial atmosphere which is conducive to the development of Christian character. To this end the College insists that the faculty be of contagious Christian character and do all in its power to develop and maintain Christian community and standards on the campus.

Courses on Old and New Testament, the life and teachings of Jesus and Paul, Christian doctrine and philosophy, and methods of church work are offered. The College observes a Life Enrichment Emphasis in the fall of each year, when a visiting minister or lay person conducts meetings daily. The students are urged to attend and take an active part. Louisburg's well-established churches of three leading denominations — Methodist, Baptist, and Episcopal, and churches of other denominations within the area — afford opportunity for training in worship and in the practice of approved methods of church work. Under the guidance of the Chaplaincy Steering Committee, students are urged to join in some form of religious activity in addition to weekly attendance at chapel, convocation, or assembly.

Lay Pastors' Program. In cooperation with the Commission on Church and Community of the North Carolina Conference and other agencies of the United Methodist Church, Louisburg College offers a curriculum for those preparing for the ministry and for local church service, particularly lay pastors. A member of the College staff who is a specialist in this work is available for field work.

Chapel. A chapel, convocation, or assembly is held each week. The trustees and the Faculty regard these exercises as an integral part of the work of the College; accordingly regular attendance is encouraged. Faculty members and student organizations offer programs, and the ministers of the town and nearby communities are invited to present religious messages.

CAMPUS AND COMMUNITY

One of the constant values of Louisburg College has been a sense of social responsibility. The active student body of more than 600 students has demonstrated increased concern in recent years about problems that exist outside their campus. This concern has been reflected in the activities of student/faculty groups involved in offering tutorial services for local elementary and high school students, participating in fund raising for numerous public health organizations, working with local garden clubs on Clean-

Up Days and environmental projects, and sponsoring campus visits of the Red Cross Bloodmobile. In conjunction with the Department of Social Services, student volunteers have become actively involved in such community projects as visitation to rest homes and mental retardation-development centers and the Big Brother, Big Sister Program, offering companionship for youngsters.

CAMPUS SERVICES

Orientation Program

The orientation program assists the student in adjusting to college life and to increased responsibility for himself and his academic progress. It is designed to help students become intelligent citizens in the college community. The Freshman Orientation at the beginning of fall semester includes:

1. Informal gatherings, lectures, and various student activities which induct the freshman into the group and acquaint him with the customs and traditions of the College. Placement tests are given during this period providing the faculty with information essential to effective guidance.

2. Library talks conducted by the librarian with small groups of freshmen. The students explore the facilities of the library and are initiated into the use of the card catalogue, reference books, the reserve systems, and other features.

3. Discussions with the freshmen led by well-qualified persons and centering on topics such as the objective of college education, techniques of study, dormitory life, the grading system, and the curricula.

The Orientation Course is required of all first-year students. It deals with curriculum, effective study habits, vocations, and personal and group adjustment.

Health Administration

Complete health service is offered at Louisburg College. A nurse is in attendance at all times in the infirmary, and the College physician makes regular calls. Students who contract minor illnesses are promptly transferred to the infirmary to receive proper care and to insure the health of the College community. In case of serious illness, parents or guardians are notified at once, but if they cannot be reached speedily enough in an emergency, the College will make whatever provision is deemed expedient by the College Infirmary. The Franklin County Memorial Hospital, modernly equipped, is located in Louisburg; and its facilities are available to the College and its students.

Each prospective student is asked to return a questionnaire concerning his health history prior to enrollment. Students who fail to do so may be examined by the college physician at the student's expense. Records of examinations will be referred to when questions arise concerning the amount of curricular and extra-curricular work and physical activity the student can undertake.

Insurance

A student group accident and hospitalization insurance plan is available at a nominal cost. The coverage is provided by an agency outside of the College. Students approved for admission to the College are given a full description of the plan and advised of application procedure.

Office of Guidance and Counseling

The Office of Guidance and Counseling provides qualified assistance for students who may be experiencing difficulties with college adjustment, personal problems, vocational decisions, or any area involving student life. Students are offered vocational inventories and academic aptitude tests, at no charge, to help them in making career decisions and to assist them in planning their future academic progress. This office also maintains a current library of senior college catalogs, trade and technical schools, community colleges, and educational and vocational information dealing with specific occupational areas.

Academic Advising

The faculty and administrative staff act in an advisory capacity to assist the student in solving his scholastic difficulties. At the time a student enrolls, he is assigned a faculty advisor on the basis of his interests, course of study, and special requirements. The student is encouraged to consult his faculty advisor when he needs help in the areas of course selection, vocational information concerning his advisor's area of specialty, and academic transfer information.

English Consultant Program

The student who wants constructive criticism of an academic accomplishment or guidance beyond the classroom in understanding an academic problem finds the Louisburg College tutorial services an opportunity for further involvement with his work. For such a student, the tutorial program is an informal extension of the classroom. He comes to the consultant to test his ideas about an assignment and to be stimulated in developing those ideas. Often he finds that solving an academic problem can be more enjoyable than trying to avoid it. The realization that academics can be worth his time and effort is evidence to the student that he has benefited from a cooperative effort.

Student Center

The new one-story student center, opened during the Fall Semester of 1974, contains a large multipurpose room to be used for meetings and student events, a book store, soda shop, recreation area, student government offices and conference room, all student publication offices, and post office. The modern, air-conditioned structure adjoins the Benjamin N. Duke College Union.

Assemblies, Chapel and Convocation

Assembly, Chapel or Convocation services are held each Tuesday at 11:00 a.m. during the regular academic year. Classes are not scheduled during this hour so that students may attend the services.

Physical Education

The major purpose of the physical-education program is to provide a variety of sports activities in a healthful and pleasant environment and to equip the college student with skills in sports that he may carry on in his leisure time and after graduation. Students who have a minor physical disability are offered a suitable type of exercise. The physical education program includes such varied intramural sports as tennis, softball, volleyball, basketball, soccer, track, horseshoes, ping-pong, baseball, archery, and badminton.

Laundry Service

Rental linen service is offered at the College on a voluntary basis for dormitory students. Every week of the school year, this service will supply each student customer with the following linens: two single sheets, one pillow case and three bath towels. Individual lockers are provided for each student customer. Freshly laundered linen will be dispensed and soiled linen will be collected through individual use of the lockers by the students. This service is operated by an outside agency.

ATHLETIC PROGRAM

Louisburg College is a member of the Cavalier-Tar Heel Conference, and the National Junior College Athletic Association. Intercollegiate sports are men's basketball, baseball, golf, and tennis and women's basketball and volleyball. The College's graduating athletes are constantly sought by four-year institutions for their final two years.

Other members of the Cavalier-Tar Heel Conference are Ferrum College, Chowan College, Mt. Olive College, College of the Albemarle, Kittrell College and Sandhills College.

Hurricane Basketball

During Coach Enid Drake's ten years at Louisburg College, the Hurricanes have established a won-lost ledger of 173-109. Within this period, the Canes have won two Cavalier-Tar Heel Conference Championships. In addition to this, the Canes have qualified for the Region 10 Tournament four times and were runners-up twice.

Hurricane players have transferred to and played at several NCAA and NAIA schools. Former Canes who currently play at four-year institutions include Russell Davis, Virginia Tech; Howard Ray, Roanoke College; Randy Bridges and Charles Simmons, Pembroke State University; and Kim Pastushok, Wagner College (New York).

Each year the Canes' schedule includes twelve conference games. The Canes also compete in non-conference games against teams from the Western Carolina Conference and junior-varsity teams from several four-year colleges and universities. Double headers are an annual attraction on the campus during the Thanksgiving weekend, and the season concludes with the Cavalier-Tar Heel Conference Tournament.

Annual Basketball School

In the summer of 1975, Louisburg College held its eighth-annual Basketball School with students from Eastern North Carolina and Virginia attending. Directed by Coach Enid Drake, the school attracts boys from nine years old through high school age. On hand to assist Coach Drake were Coach Sam White and former Cane basketball players Don Carter, Butch English, Wes Webb, and Terry Davis, along with Stafford Stephenson from Wake Forest University.

For the third consecutive year, a girls' session was included. Heading the staff was Marie Lewis, whose coaching experience includes three years at Northern Nash High School, one year at East Carolina University, and one year at Atlantic Christian College. A former All-State player at Middlesex High School, she is presently women's basketball coach at Lynchburg College.

Hurricane Women's Basketball

In 1975, the Louisburg College women's basketball team completed its first season with an outstanding record of 16-0. Under Coach Sam White, the Canettes posted wins over Methodist College, Meredith College, North Carolina Wesleyan College, Atlantic Christian College, Chowan College, Pembroke State University, Virginia Wesleyan College, and Ferrum College.

Leading scorers for Louisburg were Gloria Pope, Carolyn Hawkins, and Donna Rogers, all freshmen; and sophomore Marsha Person. For the season, the Canettes shot 53% from the foul line, 41% from the floor, and averaged 71.9 points per game.

Jean Tant, a sophomore from Littleton, North Carolina, was chosen most valuable player for the 1975 season.

Hurricane Baseball

In 1975, the Canes ended their most successful season to date with a 31-5 record. This record won for them the Cavalier-Tar Heel Conference Championship, the Eastern District Championship, and a third-place finish in the NJCAA National Championship Tournament held in Grand Junction, Colorado. The Canes' Steve Coats set two records for the national tournament in Grand Junction. Coats set records for the most consecutive home runs, with four; and the most home runs for the tournament, with five.

Coach Russ Frazier was named the 1975 Cavalier-Tar Heel Conference Coach of the Year, as well as the Region 10 Coach of the Year. During Coach Frazier's 16 years at Louisburg College, his teams have won eight conference championships and two district championships, and the 1971 and 1975 teams finished fifth and third in the nation respectively.

N. C. Collegiate Baseball League

Louisburg College is a charter member of the North Carolina Collegiate Baseball League, one of the strongest summer leagues in the nation. The Canes were the only junior college invited to join the league. Other charter members are the University of North Carolina, East Carolina University, UNC at Wilmington, and Campbell College. Methodist College joined the league during the summer of 1975. Since the league's inception in 1971, Louisburg has placed third twice, second once, and, in 1974, the Canes captured the title.

A player enrolled at Louisburg College can expect to play approximately eighty games during the regular college season and the summer league.

Hurricane Golf

The 1974-75 Hurricanes continued a strong golf tradition at Louisburg by winning the October Madness Tournament in Pinehurst, North Carolina. The spring record was 6-4 with a third-place conference finish. Despite the match record, the Canes played well in the Elon College Invitational, the Atlantic Christian-Campbell Invitational, as well as the Cavalier-Tar Heel Conference and Region 10 Tournaments.

Two golfers, Pete Robinson from Raleigh, and Jim Bromley from Paoli, Pennsylvania, made the All-Conference Team.

In six seasons at Louisburg College, Coach Jim Lanier's teams have a match record of 88-17, three conference championships, and four tournament victories.

Volleyball

1974 was the first year for intercollegiate volleyball at Louisburg College. Fifteen women athletes carried the power volleyball team to a 6 and 4 record and a reputation as one of the stronger junior-college volleyball teams in the state. The team is coached by Terry and Barbara Pettit, former members of nationally ranked volleyball teams.

Hurricane Tennis

The Louisburg College tennis team finished a strong second in the 1975 Cavalier-Tar Heel Conference Tournament with no individual finishing lower than third. Stan Winberry, a sophomore from Garner, North Carolina, teamed with Doug Jones, a freshman from Raleigh, to become the number one doubles team in the conference during the regular season.

The tennis team plays on six new courts that are located in a pine grove on the north edge of campus. Besides the regular spring season, the tennis team also competes in several matches and tournaments during the fall.

CULTURAL AND SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Cultural Program. A significant aspect of education is the development of the student's capacity to appreciate and enjoy the expressions of his own cultural tradition in art, literature, music, and ideas. Much of the regular curriculum is devoted to this effort; but the College strives toward this goal in other areas as well.

The Louisburg College Concert Series features various performers in the concert field as well as the outstanding lecturers and artists who appear on the assembly programs. Other features include selective art films, guest recitals, and art exhibits by artists of state and national reputation.

Since Louisburg College holds its cultural and social program to be an integral part of the educational process, attendance at some events will be required of freshmen.

Student creative contributions are encouraged in the dramatic club, the glee club, the newspaper, and the literary magazine. Students also enter their sculptures, crafts objects, ceramics, photographs, and paintings in exhibits in the Fine Arts Building.

Social Life and Entertainment. The small, church-related college offers distinct social advantages. The democratic atmosphere among students is a conscious objective of social life at Louisburg. The Social Committee of the faculty maintains a balanced program of social activities, some of which are annual traditions of long standing.

The reception for new students held regularly during the orientation period is the first social function of the school year. Homecoming Weekend is held in November, featuring class reunions and a varied program. The weekend activities include the Fall Dance.

Parents' Day, held each year in early October, brings hundreds of parents to the campus for fellowship and information about the College. Ample opportunity is given for consultation with each Louisburg College professor.

In late February, the students hold Winter Weekend. Included in the events are concerts, films, and comedy acts. The weekend culminates with a dance on Saturday night.

The Spring Weekend is a gala event held in April.

The commencement program includes the breakfast for graduates on Friday morning; the annual alumni banquet on Friday night; commencement exercises Saturday morning, including the awarding of degrees and honors; and following the commencement exercises, the Presidents's luncheon for the graduates, their parents, and friends.

Other traditional activities such as class and club entertainments and faculty-student dinners balance a comprehensive extra-curricular calendar.

COLLEGE PUBLICATIONS

The Louisburg College Bulletin is issued in September, November, December, January, February, March, April, and June, one issue being the catalogue number. Its purpose is to keep former students and friends of Louisburg informed as to the problems and progress of the College.

The Louisburg College Journal of Arts and Sciences publishes research by members of the Louisburg College faculty. Articles from The Journal have been abstracted by leading scholarly and scientific publications.

The Oak is the College annual. It is issued by the sophomore class as the record and souvenir of the two classes present at the College each year.

Columns is the campus newspaper, edited by the students under the supervision of a faculty adviser. It is published monthly.

The Collegian is the College literary magazine, published annually, which contains original poetry and prose by Louisburg College students.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Student Government Association. The entire student body is represented through its officers: President, Vice President, Chief Justice, Secretary and Treasurer. These five officers compose the Cabinet, the executive and administrative agency of the Association.

The Judicial Branch meets as the need arises to recommend to the administration disciplinary action for students found guilty of violating the rules and regulations as set forth in the Constitution and By-Laws.

The Student Government Association, within the framework of the rules and regulations set forth by the College administration, has the power "to make and enforce such rules as it may deem necessary for the maintenance of harmony and order within the student body. Cases involving personal immorality will be handled by the administration." It must be noted, however, that the Student Government Constitution recognizes the administration's right to review and reconsider any student government decision. The Student Government Association also is to represent the interests of all students at Louisburg College by promoting activities for their enrichment: educationally and socially.

Phi Beta Lambda. The Louisburg College chapter of Phi Beta Lambda (College Division of the Future Business Leaders of America) is open to all students who are regularly enrolled in the Business Department. Membership is also open to students preparing for careers in business or in business teaching. This chapter, which is affiliated with both state and national organizations, provides a means of social contacts within the department and sponsors educational programs pertaining to office practices and equipment and the selection of a vocation.

Glee Club. The Glee Club has weekly rehearsals. Selections which have wide appeal are studied, and stress is laid upon tone quality, shading, firmness of attack, phrasing, and interpretation. From this group, fifteen to twenty are chosen to compose the Chapel Choir. This group gives concerts during the year at various United Methodist churches throughout North Carolina. The Glee Club gives two concerts at the College — one at Christmastime and the other in the spring.

The Louisburg Players are an undergraduate ensemble working together intensively and continuously, providing students opportunities to develop spontaneity, discipline, and creativity for personal growth or for professional training.

The heart of the ensemble work is the workshop program. A continuing workshop in improvisation and theatre games is the most important part of the workshop program. Other workshops are devoted to movement, voice, mime, characterization, puppetry, and media, and are conducted by faculty, staff, students, and visiting professionals. In addition to workshops, the ensemble performs plays selected to serve the growth needs of the ensemble and to help provide artistic experiences for the community. The production schedule typically includes a Shakespearean play each year, while the range of selection also aims to embrace the most contemporary materials and methods.

Typical recent productions have been: MAN OF LA MANCHA, Harold Pinter's A SLIGHT ACHE, Ionesco's THE CHAIRS, Chekhov's THE HARMFULNESS OF TOBACCO, ALL-STAR IMPROV SHOW, Shakespeare's HENRY IV, COMEDY OF ERRORS, MEASURE FOR MEASURE, HAMLET, Irwin Shaw's BURY THE DEAD, Bernard Shaw's SAINT JOAN, and Thornton Wilder's, OUR TOWN.

The Players have regularly received top awards for play production and for acting in district, regional, and state drama festivals.

Denominational Groups. In the past, one group has been active on the Louisburg College campus: Students for Christian Life. Other denominational groups may be organized when desired. These groups permit interested students to maintain contact with their respective churches and to continue their religious growth along with their intellectual development.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes. The Fellowship of Christian Athletes encourages athletes to grow in the Christian Faith and to relate their faith to competitive sports. Membership in the F.C.A is open to any athlete

Young Democrats' Club and Young Republicans' Club. The YDC and YRC foster an understanding of the political philosophies of their respective parties. From time to time they invite political figures of state and national prominence to the campus.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Alumni Association is comprised of all former students of the liberal arts, general college, business, science, social work, or recreation curriculum, whether graduate or non-graduate, and all recipients of one-year certificates from the Business Department. At the present time there are approximately 8,000 whose addresses are on record in the Alumni Office. These are located in 48 states and 18 foreign countries. The Louisburg College Bulletin, published 8 times annually, goes to all alumni.

The purpose of the organization is to perpetuate the friendship formed in college days and to foster the causes of education in general and specifically at Louisburg College.

The affairs of all alumni are directed by the officers of the Association. Four officers are elected at the annual business meeting.

The Alumni Office is located on campus in the Main Building.

SUGGESTIONS AND REGULATIONS

What to Bring to College. The College provides the necessary furniture for dormitory rooms. Students should bring with them bed linen (all beds in the dormitories are single), covers, blankets, pillows, towels, (unless the rental on bed linens and towels are used), a reading lamp and any other article which would add to the comfort and attractiveness of their college home. Rugs, curtains or drapes, lamps, pictures, and easy chairs are not furnished but may be supplied by the student.

All students are expected to adhere to the following general regulations, and prospective students and new students should note them carefully:

Rooms. Any student who changes rooms or removes or exchanges furniture without the consent of the Dean of Students is subject to a fine of ten dollars.

College Visitors. A student must get permission from the house counselor or the Dean of Students before having guests overnight in dormitory rooms.

Damage. The student who damages furniture or buildings must pay the expense of repairs. Each occupant of a room will be held responsible for its care and preservation.

General Conduct. The College expects of its students loyal and genuine cooperation in maintaining a high standard of conduct. The College therefore reserves the right to demand the withdrawal of any student whose conduct at any time is not satisfactory to the College, although no specific charge may be brought against the student.

Louisburg College expects its students to abide by the laws of the civil government. In addition, as a private church-related college, Louisburg expects students to live up to the standards of Christian ethics. The College will seek to counsel with students who demonstrate problems in this area. The breaching of Christian ethics, college rules or civil law may be regarded by the college administration and/or student judicial body as sufficient cause for disciplinary action. A serious breach of such rules of conduct may result in termination of an individual's status as a student.

Motor Vehicles: Any student at Louisburg College may keep an automobile provided he conforms to all traffic regulations. All motor vehicles operated by students enrolled at the college must be registered by proper College authorities. Specific parking areas are provided for students, faculty, staff, and employees of the College. Students must obey traffic regulations issued by the College.

ADMISSIONS

Application Forms and Fee

The application for admission form is located on the last page of the catalog. Upon receipt of the application for admission and application fee*, the College will forward the applicant a high-school transcript form to be completed by the principal or guidance counselor.

A medical form is sent to the applicant when his application for admission is acknowledged by the Director of Admissions. If the applicant is under the continuing care of a doctor for physical or emotional problems, or if the applicant is unable to participate in a normal college program, including physical education, he is expected to submit the medical report prior to the admissions decision.

Scholastic Aptitude Test

Every applicant for admission to the freshman class is required to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board, but a cutoff score has not been established. The test is given in November, December, January, March, May and July. It is recommended that the Scholastic Aptitude Test be taken early in the Senior year, although Junior year scores are acceptable.

Students wishing to make application to take the tests should procure application forms from their secondary schools, or write directly to the College Entrance Examination Board, Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey, 08540, or Box 1025, Berkeley, California, 94701, for the Bulletin of Information which includes an application form and is available without charge. The bulletin lists test centers and gives complete information concerning the tests.

Because of deadlines for filing application to take the College Board tests, the student must make his arrangements well in advance of the testing date, so that his application may be received in Princeton or Berkeley by the closing date.

Foreign Students

Foreign students are expected to take the Test of English as a Foreign Language.

*This fee of $10.00 covers the cost of processing the application. The fee will not be applied to later charges or refunded, in the event of failure to be accepted or cancellation of the application.

Admissions Policy

Applications are normally acted upon soon after the admissions credentials are received, but a decision may be deferred until grades are available for the first semester of the senior year.

Campus Visits and Interviews

ACADEMIC INFORMATION

ACADEMIC INFORMATION

Registration. One day of each semester is set aside for student registration, but at the discretion of the Registrar students may preregister for classes. A fee of $5.00 for late registration will be charged students who register after the day set apart for this purpose. No student will be permitted to register after the semester has been in session for one week.

The average student load is fifteen or sixteen hours, exclusive of physical education, except for part-time students. The minimum load that a student may take is twelve hours of regular college work. A student having a B average will be allowed to take one extra hour per semester; a student having a standing between A and B will be permitted to take two extra hours; and a student having a standing of A will be allowed to take three extra hours.

By "Hour" is meant recitation of a subject once a week for a semester. Two hours in laboratory or physical education count for one hour in recitation.

Change of Courses: A course may be added within one week or dropped within four weeks after registration if the change is approved by the student's adviser, by the Dean of the College, and by the instructors involved. The forms provided must be fully processed to make approved changes official. There will be a charge of $2.00 for each course change initiated by the student after registration day.

No credit will be allowed on any course for which the student has not properly registered.

The grade of the student who withdraws from a course without following the official procedure is recorded as an F. The student who withdraws from a course after four weeks from the beginning of the semester will receive a grade of WP or WF, depending upon whether he is passing or failing at the time of the withdrawal.

REGULATIONS

Class Attendance. Absences are a serious deterrent to good scholarship, and it is difficult to receive optimum instruction, obtain knowledge, or gain skill when absent from class. Regular class attendance is the obligation of every student, and the student is responsible for all the work of all class meetings, including tests, written work, and laboratory work.

The basic absence policy permits students one unexcused absence per semester for each class meeting per week for a course, not to exceed three absences per course. For example, two absences for Tuesday-Thursday classes and physical education, three absences for Monday-Wednesday-Friday classes, one absence for labs. Courses taught on the systems approach or individualized instruction methods will follow the basic policy; however, deviation may be made by the instructor for those students who are ahead of the posted target dates for completion of the work of the course.

In any event, any student absent twenty per cent (20%) of the total class meetings (9 for MWF classes, 6 for TT classes, and 2 for labs) will be automatically dropped from the course unless extenuating circumstances can be proved.

Responsibility of keeping up with the number of absences taken rests with the student.

Absences may be excused as follows:

(1) Illness. Absences for illness may be excused by the College Nurse at the Infirmary, only if the student reports to the Infirmary prior to the time of the class. If the student is unable to go to the Infirmary, the House Counselor should be notified, or in the case of the off campus students, the Infirmary should be notified.

(2) Emergencies. The Dean of Students should be notified in case of an emergency.

(3) College Representation. The absence must be certified by the responsible faculty member and cleared through the Registrar's Office. Notification of absences excused for college representation, athletics, field trips, etc., will be issued by the Registrar's Office.

(4) Any other absences for valid reasons are excused only by the instructor.

Examinations. Written final examinations are held in all courses. There may be no deviation from the examination schedule except by special approval from a subcommittee charged with that responsibility. Requests for such changes will be considered only after a written statement setting forth the educational reasons for the change has been presented to the Dean of the College at least six weeks before the end of the semester.

Grades and Reports. Reports are sent from the Registrar's Office to parents or guardians twice each semester. Grades are evaluated as follows:

A — Excellent .....	4 quality points per semester hour
B — Superior .....	3 quality points
C — Average .....	2 quality points
D — Below Average ...	1 quality point
WP — Withdraw passing
WF — Withdraw failing
F — Failure .....
I — Incomplete .....	Course considered attempted, but no quality points earned.

A grade of I is given when a student has not completed all the requirements of a course but has completed at least 80% of them. A student receiving a grade of I may complete the course without having to reregister for the course, time limitations stated below notwithstanding.

RESIDENCE STATUS FOR TUITION PAYMENT

1. GENERAL: The tuition charge for legal residents of North Carolina is less than for nonresidents. "To qualify for in-state tuition, a legal resident must have maintained his domicile in North Carolina for at least the twelve months next preceding the date of first enrollment or re-enrollment in an institution of higher learning in this State. Student status in an institution of higher learning in this State shall not constitute eligibility for residence to qualify said student for in-state tuition." (North Carolina General Statutes 116-143.1 (b) ).

2. MINORS: A minor is any person who has not reached the age of eighteen years. The legal residence of a person under eighteen years of age at the time of his first enrollment in an institution of higher education in this State is that of his parents, surviving parent, or legal guardian. In cases where parents are divorced or legally separated, the legal residence of the father will control unless custody of the minor has been awarded by court to the mother or to a legal guardian other than a parent. No claim of residence of a guardian in North Carolina will be considered if either parent is living unless the action of the court appointing the guardian antedates the student's first enrollment in a North Carolina institution of higher education by at least twelve months.

3. ADULTS. An adult is any person who has reached the age of eighteen years. Persons eighteen or more years of age at the time of first enrollment in an institution of higher education are responsible for establishing their own domicile. Persons reaching the age of eighteen, whose parents are and have been domiciled in North Carolina for at least the preceding twelve months, retain North Carolina residence for tuition payment purposes until domicile in North Carolina is abandoned. If North Carolina residence is abandoned by an adult, maintenance of North Carolina domicile for twelve months as a non-student is required to regain in-state status for tuition payment purposes.

4. MARRIED STUDENTS: The legal residence of a wife follows that of her husband, except that a woman currently enrolled as an in-state student in an institution of higher education may continue as a resident even though she marries a non-resident. If the husband is a nonresident and separation or divorce occurs, the woman may qualify for in-state tuition after establishing her domicile in North Carolina for at least twelve months as a non-student.

5. MILITARY PERSONNEL: No person shall lose his in-state residence status by serving in the Armed Forces outside the State of North Carolina. A member of the Armed Forces may obtain in-state residence status for himself, his spouse, or his children after maintaining his domicile in North Carolina for at least twelve months next preceding his, her, or their enrollment or re-enrollment in an institution of higher education in this State.

6. ALIENS. Aliens lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence may establish North Carolina residence in the same manner as any other nonresident.

7. PROPERTY AND TAXES. Ownership of property in, or payment of taxes to, the State of North Carolina, apart from legal residence, will not qualify one for the in-state tuition rate.

8. CHANGE OF STATUS: The residence status of any student is determined as of the time of his first enrollment in an institution of higher education in North Carolina except:

(a) in the case of a nonresident student at the time of first enrollment who has subsequently maintained domicile as a non-student for at least twelve consecutive months and

(b) in the case of a resident who abandons his legal residence in North Carolina.

In either case, the appropriate tuition rate will become effective at the beginning of the first subsequent term enrolled.

9. RESPONSIBILITY OF STUDENTS. Any student or prospective student in doubt concerning his residence status must bear the responsibility for securing a ruling by stating his case in writing to the Treasurer. The student, who, due to subsequent costs, becomes eligible for a change in classification, whether from out-of-state to in-state or the reverse, has the responsibility of immediately informing the Treasurer of this circumstance in writing. Failure to give complete and correct information regarding residence constitutes grounds for disciplinary action.

In case a student has been awarded financial assistance, only that percentage exceeding the amount of financial assistance awarded is refunded. In case of sickness a written request of the case from the college physician is required. A request for refund must be submitted to the Business Office at the time of withdrawal. If the dormitories are full, students may secure rooms in such homes as are approved by the administration.

Students will consult the college authorities before making arrangements to live off campus.

The general fee includes the services rendered by the infirmary. This does not include specialized services the students may need.

Books, laboratory supplies, sheet music, athletic uniforms, and stationery are sold by the college bookstore and the student supply store at regular list prices for cash. The approximate cost of books per year is $100.

FINANCIAL AID

For students who are financially unable to meet the full expense of attending college, Louisburg College offers financial assistance. Through the years, friends of the College have contributed funds to be used to help worthy students. Awards are based upon academic potential, demonstrated need for assistance, and good citizenship. Most awards are renewable for each year provided the student continues to make normal progress toward graduation. Each year a financial statement must be filed.

Louisburg College is a member of the College Scholarship Service and supports the principle that the amount of financial aid a student receives should be based upon financial need. The College Scholarship Service assists the College in determining this need. Consequently, students seeking financial aid are required to submit a copy of the Parents' Confidential Statement Form to the College Scholarship Service and request that a copy be sent to Louisburg College. The Parents' Confidential Statement can be obtained from your High School guidance counselor or by writing the College Financial Aid Office, Louisburg College, 27549.

Financial assistance is available in three forms: (1) scholarships; (2) grants; (3) self-help, through work opportunities and/or loans. Financial aid may also be "packaged" so that a student with unusually great need can receive assistance through more than one form.

Due to increasing requests for financial aid, students should make early application to insure their consideration before the allocation of funds in late spring.

Veterans

Louisburg College is approved for providing training under Provisions of Chapter 34, Title 38, U. S. Code, G. I. Bill effective, June 1966; Chapter 35, Title 38, U. S. Code, the children of deceased or disabled veterans; and Public Law 894, for disabled veterans.

Most veterans who served on active duty for more than 180 days, any part of which occurred after January 31, 1955, are generally eligible for financial support to attend college. For specific requirements, the regional Veterans Administration Office should be contacted. Before communicating with Louisburg College about benefits under this program, the prospective recipient must complete all requirements at the regional Veterans Administration Office. Through early arrangements a veteran can insure that he receives his first check by the time of registration.

Generally children of deceased veterans, and those of living veterans who have disabilities which are considered to be total and permanent, whose death or disability was a result of service in the Armed Forces, are eligible for financial benefits to attend college.

For further information, write the Veterans Administration Regional Office, 301 North Main Street, Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Information may also be obtained from the North Carolina Department of Veterans Affairs, P. O. Drawer 26206, Raleigh, North Carolina 27611.

Louisburg College is prepared to allow veterans the special privilege of deferred payment each semester of up to $600 or an amount equal to that received under the benefits program. In no case, however, may a student defer more than $600 per semester. At the time which the veteran is billed for each semester, he should indicate with return payment and correspondence his desire to exercise this privilege.

Deferred Payment Plans

Tuition Plan. For those parents who prefer to pay their educational expenses in convenient monthly installments, we are pleased to offer The Tuition Plan. This program was founded in 1938 and is offered by more than 1300 schools, colleges and universities.

Parents may choose a plan to cover two years' expenses of tuition, room, board and fees under one agreement payable in 36, 30 or 24 monthly installments. One year's expenses may be payable in 12 monthly installments. This plan normally is used when the student has only one year of study remaining. Parent Life Insurance to guarantee an uninterrupted education is available on all programs.

Detailed information concerning The Tuition Plan is mailed to parents each summer or you may write now to the Director of Financial Aid for a descriptive pamphlet.

The Educational Checkloan. The Educational Checkloan is a flexible program that allows any qualified resident of North Carolina to borrow up to $10,000 for four years of higher education on a pre-approved credit basis. Payments can be set on a four year basis or can be extended up to six years. The money borrowed is controlled by the borrower. The borrower will receive a checkbook that can be used to pay tuition, lodging, clothes, meals and any expenses incurred that are related to a student's activities. Only the credit actually used is repaid.

Also offered with the educational checkloan plan is an optional life insurance policy covering the payment of the complete line of credit in the event of death.

Gifts to Louisburg College

Charitable giving for educational purposes is one of the most satisfying investments. The educational program at Louisburg College provides an excellent opportunity for the conscientious investor. If one believes that the small church-related junior college should be supported — that its program should continue to provide opportunity for academic excellence in the atmosphere of individual care, then he will be challenged by the opportunities at Louisburg.

Whether a gift is designated for capital improvement, endowment, scholarships, special memorials, or operating costs, whether a gift is undesignated to be used where it is most needed, or whether a gift takes the form of an outright gift of cash or property, a charitable remainder trust, or a living trust, etc., the wishes of the donor will be carried out at Louisburg.

Wise estate planning which utilizes maximum tax savings and further reductions from taxation through charitable giving is a must for thinking people of this generation. Those who are interested in learning of the implications of charitable giving should contact the President of Louisburg College for competent information without obligation.

CURRICULA & COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

CURRICULA

Requirements for Graduation. The courses offered at Louisburg College are centered around five major curricula: General Liberal Arts, Science, Business, Social Work, and Recreation. Degrees offered are the Associate in Arts (A.A.) degree, the Associate in Science (A.S.) degree, and a business certificate for those completing the one-year business course. Sixty-two semester hours constitute the minimum requirements for the Associate in Arts and the Associate in Science degrees.

The General Liberal Arts curriculum includes the following: Liberal Arts, General College, pre-ministry and pre-religious education, and lay pastors.

The Science curriculum includes the following programs; emphasis in the biological or physical sciences, pre-dentistry, pre-medicine, pre-nursing, and pre-veterinary medicine.

The Business curriculum which also carries the Associate in Arts degree, includes pre-business administration, two-year terminal business, and the one-year business course leading to the one-year business certificate. Students planning to transfer to schools of business administration should follow the Liberal Arts curriculum.

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

Students or prospective students at Louisburg College will want to know the instructional methods used by the College. Before describing them, perhaps some rationale for their variety is in order. Like all junior colleges, Louisburg College enrolls a wide variety of students with a wide variety of learning styles. The faculty of Louisburg College tries to meet each student's needs with a variety of instructional modes. For the sake of convenience, instructional methods will be described under four headings:

1. Freshman Honors Sections. If a student has maintained an outstanding high school English record and his college board scores are high, he may be invited to participate in a special honors program in freshman English at Louisburg College. This program will give a student six semester hours credit for the fall semester's work. The honors program will offer a meaningful experience for those who want the challenge. Student participation is encouraged as a learning tool and is used with the more traditional lecture. A small group provides an ideal situation for stimulating forums.

2. Traditional Instruction. In every department some classes are available utilizing the traditional lecture, textbook, library assignment, and laboratory methods. If the student has been satisfied with his previous learning experiences, he may wish to continue by selecting classes taught in the traditional fashion.

3. Individualized Systems Instruction. In almost every department, some classes have been individualized. The instructor has developed units of study which the student must master before proceeding to the following units. In each unit (sometimes called a "package") the students are told precisely what they will be able to do and the criteria required for its completion. By using printed matter, slides, audio-tapes, video-tapes, group interaction, and other media, the student may learn as fast as he can — without being held back by slower learners (if he is fast) or without being penalized by those whose preparation may be more advanced. If the student feels that his prior preparation is more advanced and he wants to complete a course early, this method of instruction may be for him! On the other hand, if the student thinks his background is weak and feels he may require longer periods of time in some areas of a course, he may also be wise to select this program of instruction. But, a word of caution: in any case, the student should be prepared to exercise some self-discipline — because in a systems course each individual student is in a large measure responsible for pacing his own learning!

4. Sophomore Seminars. In a few disciplines (notably history and English) seminars are available to a select number of sophomore students who have proven their proficiency in a particular field. Seminars are centered around research and group interaction. Under the careful guidance of the instructor, students produce a research document and then engage in dialogue with other students regarding the topic. If the student wishes to delve more deeply into his interest areas and enjoy the give and take of intense discussion, he should by all means accept the invitation to join a seminar group if it is offered.

The Humanics option is designed to provide the best possible fundamental background for the young person who is looking forward to professional leadership in youth-service agencies such as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA's, YWCA's, Boys' Clubs, Girls' Clubs, et cetera. The Humanics option is available in either the Social Work and Correction or the Recreation Leadership Curriculum. It seeks to provide a broad understanding of the nature of social work, the philosophy of group work, and the psychology and sociology involved in working with people.

In addition to classroom studies, a variety of co-curricular activities such as cooperative education work experiences, field trips through agencies, and guest presenters are offered as enrichment to the basic curriculum.

Upon graduation from Louisburg, the student may transfer to any of the six four-year colleges and universities across the country offering Human Relations curricula supported by American Humanics, and thereby continue work toward a B.S. degree and placement in a professional position within youth-service work.

CO-OPERATIVE EDUCATION

"A Balanced Education"

The Co-operative Education Program at Louisburg College is optional and is open to all freshmen, including veterans and the handicapped. It provides students with unique opportunities to combine classroom instruction with paid work experience in an educationally sound way. The co-op student, while engaged in a well-defined academic program, also pursues a planned and well-structured, off-campus work-centered learning experience.

This system depends on cooperation between employers and educators to produce a better, more meaningful, total education program. The student's work is related as closely as possible to his field of study and career interest.

Co-op students may be placed in businesses, industries, schools, hospitals, and community-service agencies, as well as local, state, or Federal government.

A student may receive a maximum of six credit hours for any one semester, with a limit of 12 credit hours accepted toward graduation. Prerequisite for Co-op is full-time enrollment of one semester or special permission from the Director of Co-operative Education.

A student working toward the Associate in Arts or Associate in Science degree may earn up to 12 semester hours of credit for co-operative field work experience in lieu of electives.

They may, however, follow what is outlined here as the Two-Year Transfer Business Program, or any one of the suggested two-year specialized programs as listed in this catalogue. The student should check carefully the requirements of the college to which he wishes to transfer to be sure that he will receive the credits he desires, as transfer of credits varies from college to college.

The student has a choice of two different sequences in mathematics. The contemporary mathematics courses are designed for the Liberal Arts or General College student who needs only one year of mathematics to satisfy curriculum requirements. The purpose of contemporary mathematics courses is to develop the abilities in a student which will enable him to understand mathematical methods of inquiry in solving individual and social problems, and to appreciate the increasing role of mathematics in interpreting and improving the culture.

The college also offers a sequence of courses for those students who plan to pursue a mathematics or science oriented curriculum. It consists of college algebra, trigonometry, and two semesters of one variable calculus with analytic geometry. If a student has completed the required courses in high school, he may enroll in the calculus sequence during his freshman year.

A student may take either the Mathematics 101 and 102 or the Mathematics 103-104 sequence in order to satisfy the general college or Liberal Arts curriculum requirements. A student who has taken college algebra and plane trigonometry, or their equivalent in high school, may receive credit for Mathematics 101 and 102 upon passing an examination for these courses. These examinations are administered by the mathematics department.
